

Steve Stanworth

I have transformed the Brontë Bell Chapel from an overgrown ruin into a historical part of the Brontë way by leading a small group of volunteers for 25 years to help maintain the site. I have partnered with the local council and community, winning silver gift awards twice for our sustainability and creative planting. Carrying out a number of evening tours for a variety of groups and after successfully reviving the site my next goal was always to purchase the Brontë Birthplace and transform it into a visitor experience that Thornton and Bradford could be proud of. After 40 years in the electrical sector my retirement is now occupied with Brontë Birthplace and the encouragement of community engagement.
